

Norms with Melissa:

- Phrase questions in a “See, Think, Wonder” format: “I’m noticing that _____ is happening in class and it makes me think about _____. I wonder how you would approach it/or how you would like me to approach it?”
- Instead of hovering over the students and asking what they need, take a step back and let them come to me.
- If there is a serious question regarding student behavior, make sure to ask it during lunch hour or by e-mail so students are not around.
- Be mindful of our surroundings when we ask questions that involve each other or the other students.
- Use love and logic with students and each other (co-teachers)
